

JUROR

Deborah Borrowdale-Cox, Museum Curator, Art Museum, Univ. of Kentucky and 2009 Kentucky Museum/Higher Education Educator of the Year. She has taught art and humanities in Japan, Brazil, and the U.S., having earned a B.A. in Fine Arts and Art History from Scripps College, and MA in Museum Education from George Washington University. Deborah has served as Director of Education at the Santa Barbara Museum of Art, and the Community Arts Director for the Culture Council of Santa Cruz County CA. Her work has focused on research, teaching and discovery, exemplifying her belief that art and culture intertwine in everything we do, learn and experience. Deborah has written and published elementary art curriculum, educational guides for print and web curriculum, and has been the featured speaker at many museum association conferences nation-wide.
